Upon completion of this degree from KSU, students will be able to:

1. Identify and contextualize the theoretical and historical foundations, tenets, values, and practices of major religious traditions and the study of religion in today's global society.

2. Apply interdisciplinary methods and critical thinking skills to the study of religion.

3. Analyze the diversity within and between religious traditions and their lived expressions.

4. Synthesize and assess the audience, in[illegible]asiond cbt forekonal t