Questions

Project Management Class: How is this different from the other Project Management courses already on the books throughout the university. M. Wilson spoke to the unique aims of this course in relationship to the IDT curriculum.

New Program -describes a sequence of courses. We noticed that there are many courses that are prescribed to be taught in Fall & Spring in addition to courses with “B or Better” prerequisites (IDT 3398’s prerequisites)Therefore, how does a student continue to matriculate if they don’t get a “B” and then have to wait a year before taking again. Wilson responded that the “B or better” is ensuring readiness for the field. He spoke at length to the department commitment to helping with students to ensure that they are progressing. Wilson also stated that the department is offering those courses more often; the current slate of offerings is based on current faculty available.
