

Norman J. Radow College of Humanities and Social Sciences

Sociology and Criminal Justice – U

Upon completion of this degree from KSU, students will be able to:

1. Explain the social dimensions of health, illness, and health care.
2. Apply various theoretical frameworks that address social determinants of health, healthcare delivery systems and occupations.
3. Critically evaluate approaches used to prevent health problems.